A World of Engineering Solutions and Customer Support:

The Henkel Group is a world-wide, market-driven specialty chemical company. Strong brands with proven and trusted names, such as Loctite® and Teroson, have long been the key to Henkel's success in the automotive and many other industries.

Henkel has a long tradition of sponsorship in motor sport. Building on a partnership which began in 1995, Henkel has been an Official Supplier to the Team McLaren Mercedes Formula One racing team since 2004. Today, every major assembly of the Team McLaren Mercedes race car contains solutions which depend on products from the Henkel portfolio.

The Dakar Rally 2005 is the latest in a long line of top-level competitive motor sport events in which Henkel has been involved. Henkel has assisted the drivers as an Official Supplier, offering a wide range of Loctite® and Teroson branded products to ensure the reliability of mechanical assemblies under the rigors of extreme racing conditions.

Health & safety:

Quality and manufacturing of Loctite® and Teroson products are constantly monitored by eminent customers and independent certification bodies. These audits and certifications regularly give Henkel best ratings for continued compliance with high quality standards. The users in the workshops are reaping the benefits from the head start in quality and processing know-how.
